

University Hospitals of
Derby and Burton
NHS Foundation Trust

The Pulvertaft is offering both our

Assessment and Management of Acute Hand Injuries

The original, high-quality training course, successfully run since 2000 and

Advanced Course in Acute Hand Injuries in Adults

on the following subsequent dates: 4 & 5 July 2019

Venue: The Enterprise Centre, University of Derby, Derby DE1 3LD

The course is suitable for all A&E staff, CTS, ST1,2 + 3, ENPs, Nurses & Therapists, covering all major aspects of acute hand injuries, when to treat and when to refer.

Faculty

Royal Derby Consultants: Miss J Arrowsmith, Mr D Armstrong, Miss M O'Brien, Mr P Russell, Miss Horton & Dr Z Sheikh. Professional valuable contribution from experienced hand nursing & hand therapy staff

External: Mr A Kocheta, Rotherham General Hospital & Mr A Raine, Stafford General Hospital

Course topics:

Assessment & Management of Acute Hand Injuries:

- Surgical Anatomy
- Examination of the Hand
- Reading X-rays
- Dressing and Splinting
- Primary Management
- Medico Legal Issues
- Local Anaesthesia
- Workshops and group discussion

The Advanced Acute Hand Injuries :

- X Ray Interpretation
- Nail bed and Finger tips
- POP
- Splint for fingers
- Local Anaesthesia

Places are limited to allow everyone to be able to practice.

Some feedback from last course:

"Well organised, useful at CT2 level; All interesting, mostly relevant. Would highly recommend it. Thanks." "Really relevant and excellent standard of teaching. Looking forward to the next study day" "Excellent course, exceptional teaching on limited time frame" "Excellent & approachable faculty; they really know their field"

COURSE FEES (inclusive of lunch & refreshments):

£160.00 for single day or £300 for both days

For more information and application forms please contact:

Jo Greenway, Research & Postgraduate Administrator

Email: joanna.greenway1@nhs.net telephone: 01332 787490

Alternatively book online:

www.pulvertafthandcentre.org.uk